Reporting

Office of Civil Rights Compliance and Investigation (CRCI) 509-335-8288

Sex and gender-based violence can be reported to CRCI which works closely with Human Resource Services (HRS) and the Center for Community Standards (CCS). CRCI can start an investigation, assist the participants with campus safety options, and connect the participants to local support, medical, and counseling resources. CRCI investigation is separate from any criminal process and can be pursued simultaneously. CRCI can determine whether the WSU Policy Prohibiting Discrimination, Sexual Harassment, and Sexual Misconduct has been violated and then make recommendations to either CCS, if the responding party is a student, or to the relevant supervisor, if the responding party is an employee. CRCI shares information about cases only on a need-to-know basis but cannot guarantee confidentiality.

Law Enforcement

Sex and gender-based violence can be reported to law enforcement. Reporters are urged to preserve any evidence and to also seek medical and counseling services. Law enforcement can assist with filing criminal charges or pursuing a no contact order.

- Working with professors regarding absences related to the incident
- Class schedule changes
- Withdrawal from classes without penalty
- Temporary trespass orders
- No contact agreements

When the Office of Civil Rights Compliance and Investigation receives a complaint of sexual misconduct, CRCI will assess whether immediate actions must be taken for the safety and security of any person involved. CRCI works with the Dean of Students and Title IX representative to assist complainants with potential interim safety measures such as these.
